So He Can Not Come to Liverpool Next Month.

REVEREND SCHIVIERA CHOSEN

He Will Begin Evangelistic Services at the Rink Late in February or Early in March—The Cause of Armenia To Be Taken Up.

At a largely attended meeting of the ministers' association yesterday afternoon it was decided to invite Rev. F. Schiviera, of Long Island, N. Y., to begin a series of union evangelistic meetings soon to be held at the Fifth street rink.

This grew out of the fact that Doctor W. J. Chapman, who had been engaged for the same work, was unfortunately disabled by being thrown from a horse and sustaining a serious dislocation of the knee, so that he could not come. Doctor Lee has a letter from Doctor Chapman, in which he says that he was riding when he was thrown from the saddle and sustained a dislocation of the knee, more serious than a fracture. Doctor Chapman had, only a short time before the accident, returned after five months of evangelistic work, and was anticipating a few weeks of pleasant holiday. The accident compelled him to throw over all his engagements, as he improves but slowly.

Upon the receipt of this information, Doctor Lee, secretary of the association, was directed to write to Mr. Schiviera and ascertain if he could be secured about the last of February or the first of March. Replies came by telegram and letter that he would be here. Final arrangements are now being completed, and the ministers expect one of the greatest religious movements the city has ever known. Many have expressed regret that Doctor Chapman could not be here, but the ministers have the assurance that Mr. Schiviera has had success everywhere he has gone equal to that of the very best evangelists. Some think him better than Doctor Chapman, and all who have heard him are enthusiastic in his praise. His meetings a year ago on Mt. Washington, Pittsburg, in which Rev. J. H. Norris was interested, were remarkable in every way. Mr. Norris is loud in his praises of Mr. Schiviera and his work. His meetings a year ago at Braddock and other places near Pittsburg were attended with the same success. In each case the Christian people were greatly strengthened and large numbers were converted. The city is to be congratulated, and it only remains for the people to do their part. The evangelist is now conducting meetings in Toronto, Canada, with his usual success. Final arrangements for the meetings will be completed soon.

ABOUT ARMENIA.

J. J. Purinton Talked to the Ministers Yesterday.

At the ministers' meeting yesterday it was decided to present to the Christian people of the various churches and to the city the need of the suffering and starving Armenians. J. J. Purinton, who has been in direct communication with many of the suffering Armenians, was asked to be present and make a statement, which he did with great emphasis, assuring all that there was no more needy cause before the Christian world than that of bleeding Armenia. He also gave positive assurance that all money contributed would be sent directly and safely to the needy.

IN DEFENSE OF UNIONISM.

"Unionist" Believes in Fair Play and Living Wages.

EDITOR NEWS REVIEW—I am an official of a union organization. I have been a unionist ever since my boyhood. I am a believer in fair days work for a fair days wage. I believe in upholding those who aid me in these principles. The employer who works under union rules, employs union workmen and pays union wages, is, in my estimation, a much better man and a much more humane employer than he who employs non-union labor, pays poor wages and bars out union workmen. There are several union printing offices in East Liverpool, and I shall name them: The NEWS REVIEW, the Crisis, the Unionist, Hood's Job office and Nichols' Job office. There is one union office in Wellsville—the Standard. Union offices pay regulation wages and are allowed one apprentice to a given number of printers. The non-union office employs one or two competent workmen, paying them good wages, and then fill up with boys or apprentices, paying very low wages to the latter, thus enabling the non-union employer to make bids for work at prices which can not be reached by him who pays honest, living wages.

The municipal campaign is now on, and candidates are hustling for the votes of the people. There are 1,600 unionists in East Liverpool, and these unionists are determined to back up the candidates who stand by unionism and living wages, and who secure their cards at union offices and publish their announcements in union papers. The proprietor of a non-union paper has threatened to roast a certain candidate in his paper, unless said candidate publishes his card in said non-union paper. In the name of the union to which I belong in this city, I can tell all candidates that the best recommendation they could have, and the best mode of securing votes, is to have non-union papers give them a roasting in their columns.

For the benefit of candidates, I will state that there are three places in this immediate section where Typographical unions are in existence, East Liverpool, Wellsville and Lisbon. The smaller country weeklies do not come under the control of the union, as no unions exist in their locality.

A true unionist is the man who, accepting a position in a union office, makes his employer's interests his own, and does everything in his power to advance his employer's interests. Union voters, you who believe in a fair days pay for a fair days work, back your ideas and principles up in a practical manner. Vote for those who patronize union offices. Let all men know that you are in earnest, and that you will not, under any consideration, vote for those who patronize non-union offices, even if the owner and proprietor thereof is your own father.

UNIONIST.

BEST IN THE COUNTRY.

The Sons of Veterans Have a Good Record.

The Sons of Veterans of this city are happy because of the report of the officer who inspected them a few weeks ago. He is noted as a most exacting man, but he only took off four per cent from the grade, giving the organization 96 per cent on the inspection. He wrote on the reverse of the blank before sending it to headquarters, that the camp was the best in Ohio, and probably the best in the country. The officers may be complemented by an order to attend the state encampment at Hillsboro where they will exemplify the secret work.

TOOK IN JOURNEYMEN.

The Barbers Accepted Seven of Them Last Night.

At the meeting of the barbers last night the following officers were elected: President, Charles Berg; vice president, J. Good; secretary, Tony Bertele; assistant secretary, A. A. Doolze; treasurer, Preston Smith.

Seven journeymen were elected to membership in the organization and three will be received at the next meeting, when all will be initiated. The society has a plan for benefits and payment of a given amount in case of death, which was presented for the first time last night.

NOTHING DEFINITE.

No Certain Move Has Been Made by the Phoenix.

It has been learned that no direct move has yet been made by the Phoenix company, and no party of capitalists have been called together for the purpose of hearing the plan for organizing a company. H. L. Simms said there was nothing definite as yet, but there would likely be some developments soon. It was learned today that there was a sentiment in favor of a line to Wellsville and a system in that place, and the company would, if formed, extend its business there as soon as a start was made here.

NOT NECESSARY.

There Will be no Quarantine Against Lisbon.

When asked this afternoon why the board of health did not declare a quarantine against Lisbon because of the smallpox cases there Doctor Ogden said it was not deemed necessary. The disease is in good hands over there, and a stringent quarantine is maintained. It is not thought there is any danger of it spreading, and no restrictions other than those already in force in Lisbon are necessary. A quarantine would interrupt a great deal of business while serving no real purpose.

A Good Representative.

Word has been received here that the Chestnut Hill kennels, of Philadelphia, will be represented at the dog show next month. The kennels are among the most noted of the country, and some of the dogs to be sent here are prize winners.

MADE ANOTHER MOVE

A New Organization For a Hospital in the City.

LADIES ARE TO DO THE LEADING

They Will Meet on Thursday Afternoon, and Promise to Form a Society—They Expect the City to Help Them and Have a Good Plan.

The plan to build a hospital will not down. It has met disaster and defeat on more than one hard fought field, but with that persistency which savors of success, comes always to the front smiling and ready for another battle.

The last scheme comes from a source which may make it successful—at least, that is what the promoters expect, and there is no reason to believe that they talk without knowledge and understanding. A number of ladies who have talked the matter over on many an occasion and have frequently discussed the necessity of such an institution in the city have decided on a plan which, they hope, will prove eminently successful and satisfactory. A meeting has been called for the Young Men's Christian association on Thursday afternoon, and all who are interested are expected to attend, when ways and means for the accumulation of money to be used in establishing and maintaining the hospital will be discussed. There are a number of plans proposed, but these will not be considered at present. The principal business of the organization will be to set the ball rolling, for they believe there are many to give it a kick when it is once started. The society has undertaken a task of mammoth proportions, but it is the earnest wish of the city that it will be successful.

WORK NOW.

Talk Good Roads When They Are Most Needed.

"Now is the time to talk better roads," said a man interested in that sort of thing to a reporter last night. "Let every advocate of good roads store his mind with knowledge now that the Calcutta, Lisbon, Wellsville and every other road leading out of the city is almost impassable. When summer comes we forget all about the rigors of winter, and the result is this present unpleasant condition. When county statesmen are in Columbus they forget the roads of their township because they walk on well paved streets. Now is when we need good roads and we ought to talk about them every chance we get."

ASKED TO MOVE.

The Pipe Was Too Much For the Scholars.

When workmen were engaged in tearing out the heating system at the Fourth street school and making the needed repairs, one man spent a portion of his time in smoking. His pipe was strong and the tobacco did not cost over a dollar a pound, but the combination had a baleful influence over the scholars and they hoped he would quit. When he manifested a disposition to smoke all the time, the teacher politely asked him to step into the hall for a few minutes while the children got their breath. He took the hint and quit smoking.

WAITING FOR TRIMMINGS.

When They Come There Will be Electric Lights.

The electric light company are waiting patiently for the trimmings for the arc machine and when they arrive it will not require a great length of time for the workmen to put light on the western circuit. The repairs must come from New York, and they are expected on every train. The accident was one of the most annoying the company ever suffered, and strenuous efforts are being made by Manager Botwick and his force to have the broken machine repaired.

A PLUCKY GIRL.

Little Mary Sirtong Saved Herself From Drowning.

Mary Sirtong, the daughter of a Clarkson resident, had a narrow escape from drowning in Beaver creek the other day. She had gone skating with Bessie Moore, and slipped off the ice into the current, but did not lose her presence of mind. Nothing but her hood appeared above the water for a time, but she worked her way to the ice, and catching the edge drew herself to safety, a wet but not even a frightened little maid.

REPRIMANDED AND RELEASED.

Small Boys Arrested at the Opera House.

Officer Jennings, assisted by Officer Welch, arrested a number of boys at the Grand last night because they were making themselves a nuisance in the lobby. The crowd were taken to city hall where they were locked up for a time and made to know the enormity of their offense. Mayor Gilbert gave them a hearing, and reprimanded the crowd severely. He told them it must not happen again, and they were allowed to go. Boys in the lobby at the theater have become a nuisance, and the arrests last night were none too soon.

THE GAS FLASHED.

Painful Accident to Miss Frankie Duran at the Grand.

Miss Frankie Duran, a member of the theatrical company now playing at the Grand, had a painful accident yesterday afternoon. She placed a lighted match in the stove of her room but not until the gas was turned on, and there was a loud explosion. Luckily but little gas was in the stove yet there was sufficient to cause a flash, which enveloped Miss Duran's arm and burned it severely. It was thought yesterday that she had sustained so serious a burn that it would be impossible for her to appear on the stage.

DROPPED IN THE MUD.

An Incident of Life on Sophia Street's Yellow Surface.

Sophia street is muddy. It is one of the muddiest streets in town. Yesterday afternoon a young man was driving along in a wagon when the king bolt broke. The team and front wheels went steadily on, but the bed and young man dropped into the mud. The driver slipped off his seat and was deposited without hurt, but with great injury to his personal appearance, in the slush. The mud of Sophia street is yellow and sticky, and when he walked away the driver had more than his share of it.

FELL IN A DITCH.

A Woman Injured While Walking on the Calcutta Road.

The rain has had a softening effect upon the Calcutta road and it is in awful condition. Where the water pipes are laid are long ditches and these have commenced to prove dangerous. A woman, whose name could not be learned, fell into a ditch and struck her head with sufficient force to render her insensible. She was aided to her home and her injuries found to be slight. There is little light on the road, which makes it a dangerous place at present.

NO TRUTH IN IT.

The Authorities Say That There Was No Raid.

A story gained wide circulation this morning that the police had raided a disreputable joint in the heart of the city and had captured two young men, who put up the plea that they had taken flowers to a sick woman. The raid is popularly supposed to have been made on Sunday night, but when questioned about the matter Mayor Gilbert declared that he knew nothing about it, and he would have known if there were any arrests.

NOT SO MANY.

Typhoid Fever Patients are Decreasing in Number.

Only one case of typhoid fever has been reported to the health authorities this week, and there is little doubt that the disease is on the decrease, the top notch having been reached. A number of patients who were thought to be in a dangerous condition last week are recovering and are well out of danger. The number of cases still in charge of physicians is too large to make the health authorities feel happy.

DOCTOR WELCH ILL.

But She Will Return and Release Her Husband.

Word has been received from Doctor Welch, wife of the man who is in jail at New Castle charged with counterfeiting, that she is ill in Indiana and will not be back for a few days. She says, however, that her husband will be released on bail, but whether he will return to Wellsville is another part of the story which does not appear. Mrs. Welch's friends in Wellsville believe that she will locate there again.

AN AWFUL FALL.

The Wife of Reverend Swan Came Near Being Killed.

Mrs. Swan, wife of the reverend gentleman so well known in this city, is recovering from the effects of an accident at the home of her son in New Waterford. A few weeks ago the lady slipped while walking down stairs and fell to the bottom. There was no railing at which she could grasp and she went headlong down the stairs. She was seriously hurt, receiving a deep gash on her head.

TO VIEW THE RIVER

Statesmen Will See Just What We Need.

RIVER AND HARBOR COMMITTEE

Have Been Invited To Inspect the Ohio and Have Accepted—It Is a Great Stroke of the Improvement Association—How They Will Travel in Style.

After many years of anxious waiting and after many efforts that have gone up in smoke, it really seems as though congress intended to recognize the Ohio river as a stream worthy its attention.

It is announced that the river and harbor committee have accepted the invitation of Hon. J. L. Vance, president of the improvement association organized in Cincinnati last fall, to visit the great stream and see for themselves its needs and requirements. The new and elegant steamer Virginia will be placed at the disposal of the party, and the trip will begin at Pittsburg. The chamber of commerce and the coal exchange will banquet the committee, and demonstrations of the immense river traffic will be shown in midstream. There will be no limit to the trip, and every point of interest will be visited and inspected. Congressman Dovener, of West Virginia, is among the leaders of the movement and is a member of the committee. He is the tried friend of the Ohio, and he is lending his every effort to have congress recognize the importance of the stream. When the committee come they should be invited to visit this city and take a look at our great industry. It would be an immense advertisement for the city and would show the diversified industries of the valley.

MR. METSCH MAY NOT SELL.

The Railroad Must Hurry if It Wants His Property.

Christian Metsch was seen today regarding the sale of his property to the railroad company, and he said that if they did not want his land, he was not anxious to sell. However, he will dispose of it should he get his price, but the company must close the bargain soon as possible as he has no desire to wait. Just why the company want the land is still a mystery, but there is no longer the slightest doubt that the Cleveland & Pittsburg have made a big bid for it, and will buy it if the price is not too high.

DARK MORNINGS.

Engineers Complain of the Fog and Smoke.

Engineers of the Cleveland and Pittsburg were complaining today of the care they are compelled to exercise in running their engines these mornings. Fog and smoke hang low over the valley and they can see only a short distance through the dense clouds, and in Pittsburg it is almost as dark as night until far into the morning. One engineer said this morning that he was in constant dread of running down someone when going through the fog.

NO MEETING.

Association Directors Did Not Decide to Purchase.

Business engagements and private affairs which could not be thrown aside, prevented a meeting of the directors of the Young Men's Christian association last evening. There was not a quorum present, and no business was transacted. Another has been called for Thursday evening, and then the matter of purchasing the George property will be taken up. The members of the association who favor the purchase seem to be on the increase.

SOLD THE PROPERTY.

Sheriff Gill Disposed of It At Public Sale.

Sheriff Charley Gill was in town today and disposed of the property of J. J. Allison, of Second street. The price paid was $1,500 and it was bought by I. Samler, Philadelphia. The property is cheap at the price paid as real estate has in the last few weeks had an upward tendency, but agents do not believe it will reach the old standard for several years there being far too much on the market.

Light at the Standard.

Electricians are at work in the office of the Standard pottery preparing to wire it for electric lights. Lights will also be located in the plant, but they will not be put in for a few months.

Fixing the Wires.

Lineman Deldrick was at work today making some important changes in the wires at the fire station. There was no end of what the electricians call transferring to do.

It was thought yesterday that she had sustained so serious a burn that it would be impossible for her to appear on the stage.

DROPPED IN THE MUD.

An Incident of Life on Sophia Street's Yellow Surface.

Sophia street is muddy. It is one of the muddiest streets in town. Yesterday afternoon a young man was driving along in a wagon when the king bolt broke. The team and front wheels went steadily on, but the bed and young man dropped into the mud. The driver slipped off his seat and was deposited without hurt, but with great injury to his personal appearance, in the slush. The mud of Sophia street is yellow and sticky, and when he walked away the driver had more than his share of it.

FELL IN A DITCH.

A Woman Injured While Walking on the Calcutta Road.

The rain has had a softening effect upon the Calcutta road and it is in awful condition. Where the water pipes are laid are long ditches and these have commenced to prove dangerous. A woman, whose name could not be learned, fell into a ditch and struck her head with sufficient force to render her insensible. She was aided to her home and her injuries found to be slight. There is little light on the road, which makes it a dangerous place at present.

NO TRUTH IN IT.

The Authorities Say That There Was No Raid.

A story gained wide circulation this morning that the police had raided a disreputable joint in the heart of the city and had captured two young men, who put up the plea that they had taken flowers to a sick woman. The raid is popularly supposed to have been made on Sunday night, but when questioned about the matter Mayor Gilbert declared that he knew nothing about it, and he would have known if there were any arrests.

NOT SO MANY.

Typhoid Fever Patients are Decreasing in Number.

Only one case of typhoid fever has been reported to the health authorities this week, and there is little doubt that the disease is on the decrease, the top notch having been reached. A number of patients who were thought to be in a dangerous condition last week are recovering and are well out of danger. The number of cases still in charge of physicians is too large to make the health authorities feel happy.

DOCTOR WELCH ILL.

But She Will Return and Release Her Husband.

Word has been received from Doctor Welch, wife of the man who is in jail at New Castle charged with counterfeiting, that she is ill in Indiana and will not be back for a few days. She says, however, that her husband will be released on bail, but whether he will return to Wellsville is another part of the story which does not appear. Mrs. Welch's friends in Wellsville believe that she will locate there again.

AN AWFUL FALL.

The Wife of Reverend Swan Came Near Being Killed.

Mrs. Swan, wife of the reverend gentleman so well known in this city, is recovering from the effects of an accident at the home of her son in New Waterford. A few weeks ago the lady slipped while walking down stairs and fell to the bottom. There was no railing at which she could grasp and she went heading down the stairs. She was seriously hurt, receiving a deep gash on her head.

TO VIEW THE RIVER

Statesmen Will See Just What We Need.

RIVER AND HARBOR COMMITTEE

Have Been Invited To Inspect the Ohio and Have Accepted—It is a Great Stroke of the Improvement Association—How They Will Travel in Style.

After many years of anxious waiting and after many efforts that have gone up in smoke, it really seems as though congress intended to recognize the Ohio river as a stream worthy its attention.

It is announced that the river and harbor committee have accepted the invitation of Hon. J. L. Vance, president of the improvement association organized in Cincinnati last fall, to visit the great stream and see for themselves its needs and requirements. The new and elegant steamer Virginia will be placed at the disposal of the party, and the trip will begin at Pittsburg. The chamber of commerce and the coal exchange will banquet the committee, and demonstrations of the immense river traffic will be shown in midstream. There will be no limit to the trip, and every point of interest will be visited and inspected. Congressman Dovenor, of West Virginia, is among the leaders of the movement and is a member of the committee. He is the tried friend of the Ohio, and he is lending his every effort to have congress recognize the importance of the stream. When the committee come they should be invited to visit this city and take a look at our great industry. It would be an immense advertisement for the city and would show the diversified industries of the valley.

MR. METSCH MAY NOT SELL.

The Railroad Must Hurry If It Wants His Property.

Christian Metsch was seen today regarding the sale of his property to the railroad company, and he said that if they did not want his land, he was not anxious to sell. However, he will dispose of it should he get his price, but the company must close the bargain soon as possible as he has no desire to wait. Just why the company want the land is still a mystery, but there is no longer the slightest doubt that the Cleveland & Pittsburg have made a big bid for it, and will buy it if the price is not too high.

DARK MORNINGS.

Engineers Complain of the Fog and Smoke.

Engineers of the Cleveland and Pittsburg were complaining today of the care they are compelled to exercise in running their engines these mornings. Fog and smoke hang low over the valley and they can see only a short distance through the dense clouds, and in Pittsburg it is almost as dark as night until far into the morning. One engineer said this morning that he was in constant dread of running down someone when going through the fog.

NO MEETING.

Association Directors Did Not Decide to Purchase.

Business engagements and private affairs which could not be thrown aside, prevented a meeting of the directors of the Young Men's Christian association last evening. There was not a quorum present, and no business was transacted. Another has been called for Thursday evening, and then the matter of purchasing the George property will be taken up. The members of the association who favor the purchase seem to be on the increase.

SOLD THE PROPERTY.

Sheriff Gill Disposed of It At Public Sale.

Sheriff Charley Gill was in town today and disposed of the property of J. J. Allison, of Second street. The price paid was $1,500 and it was bought by L. Samler, Philadelphia. The property is cheap at the price paid as real estate has in the last few weeks had an upward tendency, but agents do not believe it will reach the old standard for several years there being far too much on the market.

Light at the Standard.

Electricians are at work in the office of the Standard pottery preparing to wire it for electric lights. Lights will also be located in the plant, but they will not be put in for a few months.

Fixing the Wires.

Lineman Deldrick was at work today making some important changes in the wires at the fire station. There was no end of what the electricians call transferring to do.

EAST LIVERPOOL, O., TUESDAY, JAN. 21.

For President, WILLIAM MCKINLEY, Of Ohio.

It is almost time for another special message from President Cleveland. Perhaps he needs another duck hunting expedition so his cabinet can think for him while he is gone.

ENGLAND will flare and flash like a rocket when an inch of her territory is threatened, but strange to say remains passive and dumb while the poor Armenians are being killed by the score.

THE New York judge who refused the other day to naturalize a lot of applicants because they had not read the constitution, displayed the true American spirit. We want no citizens in ignorance of the spirit of the law under which we live.

THERE has been so much said and written about the present legislature being a body of business men that we all want to see them get down to work. Let them keep out anything which savors of special legislation, enact such laws as the state may need, and then go home.

CONGRESS is discussing appropriations this week, but it is almost needless to say that no money will be set aside for the construction of a government building at this point. Had there been no Wilson bill we would have stood some chance of recognition, but with the balance on the wrong side of our Uncle Samuel's ledger, we are not in it.

ENFORCE THE LAW.

Benjamin Harrison was once called upon to say some strong words on the enforcement of law, and he said:

"The idea that a mayor or chief of police is at liberty to permit any law or ordinance to be violated is monstrous. We choose executive officers to enforce the law, and not to repeal or suspend them at their pleasure. It is subversive of our system and destructive of social order and of the peace of any community to allow our executive officers to choose what laws they will enforce. It is not at all a question whether I like the law or whether the officer likes the law. Such questions are for the legislature and council."

The law should be enforced. Laws were made for that purpose. They were not made to be ignored and cast down, as is too often the case in municipalities. If the law is wrong it will work its own defeat, but it should be enforced as long as it is on the statute books.

The great majority of men and women, of even very much more than ordinary intelligence, pay no attention whatsoever to the well established rules governing the preservation of health. Simple symptoms of indigestion or slight disarrangements of the stomach or system are treated by them as trivial happenings, having no weight or bearing upon their general health. In this seeming neglect or too much over confidence in their own robustness lies the greatest mistake of their lives, as it is invariably from these little ailments giant chronic diseases spring. To guard fully against such evils, use Libby's Phosphatic Beef, Iron and Wine; the only true tonic to the stomach system, system and nerves, perfect strength and tissue producer, and new rich blood matter. Go or send for it to Alvin H. Bulger, druggist, Sixth and West Market.

NOTICE.

The annual meeting of the stockholders of the East Liverpool Amusement Hall company will be held in the Fifth street rink on Thursday, January 23, 7 o'clock p. m., for the election of a board of directors, and such other business as may be necessary.

JAMES H. GOODWIN, Secretary. January 12, 1896.

GREAT BRITAIN ASKED

To Submit Boundary Evidence, as Is Venezuela.

MONROE DOCTRINE EXPANSION.

Davis' Resolution Favorably Reported to the Senate—Sewell Argues That President Cleveland Went Too Far in His Message—New Commission Secretary.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 21.—There have been important developments regarding the Venezuelan question and the Monroe doctrine.

The Venezuelan commission has invited the governments of Great Britain and of Venezuela to submit to it all of the evidence in their possession to further the work of the commission to be represented before it by attorneys, and all of this with the reservation that such representation and appearance shall not be deemed an abandonment of any rights or position heretofore assumed. It has done this in order that the proceedings of the commission may not be said to be ex parte, that the truth may appear, and that time may be saved in the inquiry with which the commission is charged. The invitation goes in the shape of a letter to Secretary Olney, who has made response, saying that he has transmitted a copy of the commission's views to the two governments concerned, but has as yet received no reply.

It cannot be said that the commission is confident of a favorable response from both parties to the boundary controversy, although the courteous terms in which the suggestion is couched and the wide latitude of reservation permitted each party that may respond in the open spirit which characterizes the invitation leads to the natural hope that it will be accepted.

Meanwhile the commission will proceed on the original line of inquiry, which promises to be a slow and difficult task, trusting to the abridgment of the proceedings later on by the production of evidence by both parties, and the appearance of attorneys, when the proceedings may at once take on the form of a judicial trial, and the attainment of a conclusion be correspondingly hastened.

S. Malet-Provost, who has earned a high reputation at the New York bar and also in Washington, has been named as secretary of the commission, and will be in daily attendance at the rooms. Mr. Whitmore of the city, N. Y., was selected as one of the counsellors who will be employed, and Walter Moulthrop of the District of Columbia was appointed a messenger. A few other appointments will be made hereafter as the need for further help appears.

The Davis resolution on the Monroe doctrine, which has been reported favorably to the senate and referred to the calendar, reads as follows:

Resolved, By the senate, that whereas President Monroe in his message to congress of December 2, anno domini 1823, deemed it proper to assert as a principle in which the rights and interests of the United States are involved that the American continents, by the free and independent condition which they have assumed and maintained, were thenceforth not to be considered as subjects for future colonization by any European power.

Whereas President Monroe further declared in that message that the United States would consider any attempt by the allied powers of Europe to extend their system to any portion of this hemisphere as dangerous to our peace and safety; that with the existing colonies and dependencies of any European power, we have not interfered and should not interfere; but that with the governments who have declared their independence and maintained it, whose independence we have on great consideration and on just principles acknowledged, we could not view any intervention for the purpose of oppressing them or controlling in any other manner their destiny by any European power, in any other light than as the manifestation of an unfriendly disposition toward the United States, and further reiterated in that message that it is impossible that the allied powers should extend their political system to any portion of either continent without endangering our peace and happiness; and,

Whereas, The doctrine and policy so proclaimed by President Monroe have since been repeatedly asserted by the United States by executive declaration and action upon occasions and exigencies similar to the particular occasion and exigency which caused them to be first announced, and have been ever since their promulgation, and now are the rightful policy of the United States, therefore be it

Resolved, That the United States of America reaffirm and confirm the doctrines and principles promulgated by President Monroe in his message of Dec. 2, 1823, and declares that it will assert and maintain that doctrine and those principles and will regard any infringement thereof and particularly any attempt by any European power to take or interfere with any territory on the American continent or any island adjacent thereto for any right of sovereignty or dominion in the same, in any case or instance as to which the United States shall deem such attempt to be dangerous to its peace or safety by or through purchase, cession, occupation, pledge, colonization, protectorate or by control of the casement in canal or any other means of transit across the American isthmus, whether on unfounded pretension of right in cases of alleged boundary disputes, or under other unfounded pretensions, as the manifestation of an unfriendly disposition toward the United States and as an intervention which it would be impossible in any form for the United States to regard with indifference.

In seeming contravention of this, Mr. Sewell (Rep., N. J.) then addressed the senate on his resolution reciting that President Olney had extended the Monroe doctrine beyond its proper scope, and enunciating the principle that the doctrine was for the interest of the United States, and was not an obligation to aid and protect Southern republics. The resolution recites that the president's course was premature and that the Monroe doctrine does not commit the United States to a protectorate of southern countries. Mr. Sewell said the president's Venezuelan message presented questions of most serious import.

The senate, reading from the message, said the president clearly desired to prevent the contingency of war. Throughout the message and the letters of the secretary of state, the determination was clear to make this construction of the doctrine absolutely final and conclusive without reference to results.

The senator quoted from resolutions of congress in 1823 and speeches by Mr. Webster, showing the exact purposes and original scope of the Monroe doctrine. In 1866 Senator Clayton of Delaware pointed out in the senate that the doctrine of Monroe was not addressed to foreign nations, but was a mere recommendation to congress, which ever since declined to accept. The congress sitting at the time of the Monroe message strongly opposed the doctrine. Henry Clay offered a modified resolution, but it could not pass. Lewis Cass referred to the doctrine as a dead letter. Mr. Sewell gave the position of John Quincy Adams, Jackson, Van Buren and other statesmen on the doctrine, showing the constant and successful opposition to it.

Taking up the Venezuela question, Mr. Sewell pointed out that the president's position involved the most extreme and dangerous application of the doctrine thus far made. It was not based on the interests of the United States, but on the force exerted by a strong power against a weak one in South America. It clearly led to the assumption of a protectorate by the United States over Mexico and South American countries. It involved the necessity of our preparing ourselves with arms and ammunition to execute the duties and obligations of such a protectorate.

Venezuela has been in a state of constant turmoil and revolution for 25 years, said Mr. Sewell. These people of the southern republics were subject to internal discord and revolution. It behooved the United States to pause and consider well the extent of an obligation which made up the guardian of these turbulent countries. That they would give offense to foreign countries was undoubted.

Mr. Sewell said that he felt the circumstances of the moment had led to an extreme assertion of our position, which would entail serious results if carried out by congress. The first ebullitions of popular excitement and the desire of some persons to indulge in cheap utterances based on supposed patriotism was not the best basis for intelligent and serious action. In conclusion Mr. Sewell said:

"I can not but think that a matter which has been slumbering so many years in a state of diplomatic repose might have been delayed a few months longer. It seems hardly wise, just at this time, to have thrown into the political arena this further cause for disorder and disturbance. A zealous upholding of the nation's honor on the part of the executive is to be commended. But we have a right to expect that discretion and good judgment will be exercised in bringing to a culmination and issue so grave and serious as that now presented. It appears to me that in this respect the action of the executive has been alike unreasonable and premature. The country is in a state of recovery or convalescence from the financial malady of 1893. In this view it appears to me that the action of the executive has been more than unreasonable."

BAYARD NOT REPROVED.

The President Replies to the House Regarding the Ambassador's Speeches.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 21.—The president has sent to the house his reply to the resolution calling on him for information as to what he had done about the matter of the speeches delivered by Ambassador Bayard. He transmits copies of the two speeches in full, and also copies of letters from Mr. Bayard explanatory of them. No action was taken by the president on the speeches except to notify Mr. Bayard of the action of the house.

Mr. Bayard in his letter calls attention to the fact that the Edinburgh address was delivered by invitation before a society purely literary and scientific in character; that no political canvass was pending or approaching in Great Britain at the time; that the address consisted of his personal opinions upon governmental institutions in general, etc., and that there were precedents, as in the case of his predecessor, Mr. Lowell, for an ambassador of the United States delivering an address under such conditions.

Recounting his participation in the closing exercises of the school at Boston, England: "A kindly, humorous, post prandial tone prevailed."

Mr. Bayard adds that the sending of a copy of a local paper containing a report of the address to President Cleveland and to a grandchild in Boston, Mass., constituted all the "publication" in the United States which he had given it. Mr. Bayard adds that in the report of his Boston address there are obvious errors, but as he spoke without preparation he has nothing by which to make comparisons or to show in just what those errors consisted.

GOOD NEWS FOR CUBA.

Recognition by This Country Soon Expected.

SENATORS SAID TO FAVOR IT.

The Committee Said to Intend to Make a Favorable Report on the Matter—McMillan Says the Rebels Will Be Recognized at an Early Day.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 21.—Senators Sherman, Morgan and Lodge, who constitute the committee on Cuban affairs, have been holding a consultation upon the question of recognizing the belligerency of the Cuban insurgents. The meeting was strictly private and nothing was given out concerning it.

There is reason for believing that the sub-committee has virtually agreed upon a resolution recommending the recognition of the belligerency of the Cubans and that a report to this effect will be made to the full committee at its meeting next Wednesday. It is possible that the resolution may only go to the extent of expressing sympathy for the Cuban cause, and the sub-committee is trying to keep its proceedings a close secret.

There has never been any doubt on the part of a majority of the members as to the propriety of some recognition of the Cuban movement for freedom, the only question being as to the wisdom of taking steps at this time in that direction. There is a feeling in the committee, however, that congress is far behind the sentiment of the country on this question, and that the time is ripe for action.

A Nashville special says: Congressman Benton McMillan has reached the city from Washington, and in an interview had with him concerning the Cuban affairs, said he had good grounds for the statement that President Cleveland, in a few days, will send a message to congress recognizing the Cubans as belligerents. Mr. McMillan says he is satisfied this will be done, and the rumors connecting England with the purchase of Cuba are bringing matters almost to a crisis. Mr. McMillan spoke with positiveness in regard to the early recognition of the revolutionists.

SYLVESTER SCOVEL ESCAPES.

A Pittsburg Correspondent Having Thrilling Experiences in Cuba.

PITTSBURG, Jan. 21.—Sylvester Scovel, the correspondent of the Pittsburg Dispatch in Cuba, son of Rev. Dr. Scovel, president of the University of Wooster, and who was captured by the Spanish and ordered deported from the island, an account of which appeared in these dispatches yesterday, has made his escape and is again with the insurgents.

United States Consul General Williams has cabled this information from Cuba to the Dispatch, as did Secretary of State Olney from Washington.

Another correspondent managed to slip a message out of Havana to London, in which he was telegraphed to Pittsburg. It says: "The disappearance of Sylvester Scovel from the Cuban capital is a sensation second only to the recall of General Campos. The authorities were making preparations to carry out the order of banishment when they suddenly discovered that their victim was not to be found. He had not been locked up, but was under military surveillance, and it never entered the heads of the haughty Spanish officials that he would again attempt to break through the lines, which are supposed to tightly inclose Havana."

Mr. Scovel told one or two of the Americans in the city that he did not propose to leave the island, even if the order of banishment came direct from the throne at Madrid. He had come to Cuba to report the progress of the revolution for his paper and intended to do so, come what might. Nothing definite is known here as to the exact manner of his escape, as he was awaiting a favorable opportunity. He probably eluded the watch left over him at night, and got past the outposts and pickets in the darkness.

"It is reported here that Scovel safely reached the insurgent lines, and is again with the staff of General Gomez. This cannot be stated definitely, though, as every effort has been made to suppress all information connected with the matter."

NO NEED OF TROOPS.

The Story of War Preparations Ordered in Florida False.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 21.—A flat denial is given at the war department to the report from Florida that the department has requested the governor of the state to put the Florida troops in readiness to take the field at a moment's notice.

In the first place, it is said the president has no constitutional or lawful authority to make such a request and in the next place there is no emergency that would justify the calling out of the 1,200 men that make up the Florida militia. The report was that Great Britain was about to buy Cuba from Spain and the United States intended to interfere.

Persons having normal vision will be able to read this print at a distance of 14 inches from the eye with ease and comfort. Any one who is unable to do so, or who has any defect in vision, should have immediate attention. When the eyes become tired from reading, sewing, or if the letters look blurred and run together, it is a sure indication that the eyes are weak. LOYAL TO MCKINLEY.

Hanna Denies That Foraker Is Out For the Presidency.

CLEVELAND, Jan. 21.—M. A. Hanna, who is one of the closest friends of ex-Governor McKinley, speaking of the rumors to the effect that Senator-elect Foraker would be a candidate for the presidency said that such talk was simply rubbish.

Foraker, he said, was pledged to the support of McKinley, and he was too noble and honorable a man to violate those pledges.

Mr. Hanna was certain that Foraker would give earnest and loyal support to McKinley, and that he would have but one candidate for the presidency.

The Bering Sea Dispute to Be Arranged by a Commission.

OTTAWA, Jan. 21.—An important step has been taken toward the settlement of the claims of Canadian sealers for seizures in the years 1886-90 by the United States. It was originally agreed that the Bering sea troubles should be submitted to a joint commission, and negotiations to that end are now on. A cablegram received from Colonial Secretary Joseph Chamberlain states that Sir Julian Pauncefote, the English ambassador to the United States has been authorized to sign a convention for the appointment of the commission. Secretary Chamberlain intimates that the president of the Swiss republic may be asked, if necessary, to appoint an umpire to decide any points on which the commission may disagree.

This government has replied that the appointment of an umpire in the manner suggested, will be satisfactory to the Canadian government.

EAST LIVERPOOL, O., TUESDAY, JAN. 21.

For President,
WILLIAM MCKINLEY,
OF OHIO.

It is almost time for another special message from President Cleveland.
Perhaps he needs another duck hunting expedition so his cabinet can think for him while he is gone.

ENGLAND will flare and flash like a rocket when an inch of her territory
is threatened, but strange to say remains passive and dumb while the poor Armenians are being killed by the score.

THE New York judge who refused
the other day to naturalize a lot of applicants because they had not read
the constitution, displayed the true American spirit. We want no citizens in ignorance of the spirit of the law under which we live.

THERE has been so much said and written about the present legislature being a body of business men that we all want to see them get down to work. Let them keep out anything which savors of special legislation,
enact such laws as the state may need,
and then go home.

CONGRESS is discussing appropriations this week, but it is almost needless to say that no money will be set aside for the construction of a government building at this point.
Had there been no Wilson bill we would have stood some chance of recognition, but with the balance on the wrong side of our Uncle Samuel's ledger, we are not in it.

ENFORCE THE LAW.

Benjamin Harrison was once called upon to say some strong words on the enforcement of law, and he said:
"The idea that a mayor or chief of police is at liberty to permit any law or ordinance to be violated is monstrous. We choose executive officers to enforce the law, and not to repeal or suspend them at their pleasure. It is subversive of our system and destructive of social order and of the peace of any community to allow our executive officers to choose what laws they will enforce. It is not at all a question whether I like the law or whether the officer likes the law. Such questions are for the legislature and council."

The law should be enforced. Laws were made for that purpose. They were not made to be ignored and cast down, as is too often the case in municipalities. If the law is wrong it will work its own defeat, but it should be enforced as long as it is on the statute books.

The great majority of men and women, or even very much more than ordinary intelligence, pay no attention whatsoever to the well established rules governing the preservation of health. Simple symptoms of indigestion or slight disarrangements of the stomach or system are treated by them
as trivial happenings, having no weight
or bearing upon their general health.
In this seeming neglect or too much over confidence in their own robustness lies the greatest mistake of their lives, as it is invariably from these little ailments, giant chronic diseases spring. To guard fully against such evils, use Libby's Phosphatic Beef, Iron and Wine; the only true tonic to the stomach system, system and nerves,
perfect strength and tissue producer, and new rich blood matter. Go or send for it to Alvin H. Bulger, druggist, Sixth and West Market.

NOTICE.

The annual meeting of the stockholders of the East Liverpool Amusement Hall company will be held in the Fifth street

other business as may be necessary.

GREAT BRITAIN ASKED

To Submit Boundary Evidence,
as Is Venezuela.

MONROE DOCTRINE EXPANSION.

Davis' Resolution Favorably Reported to the Senate—Sewell Argues That President Cleveland Went Too Far in His Message—New Commission Secretary.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 21.—There have been important developments regarding the Venezuelan question and the Monroe doctrine.

The Venezuelan commission has invited the governments of Great Britain and of Venezuela to submit to it all of the evidence in their possession to further the work of the commission to be represented before it by attorneys, and all of this with the reservation that such representation and appearance shall not be deemed an abandonment of any rights or position heretofore assumed.
It has done this in order that the proceedings of the commission may not be said to be ex parte, that the truth may appear, and that time may be saved in the inquiry with which the commission is charged. The invitation goes in the shape of a letter to Secretary Olney,
who has made response, saying that he has transmitted a copy of the commission's views to the two governments
concerned, but has as yet received no reply.

It cannot be said that the commission is confident of a favorable response from both parties to the boundary controversy, although the courteous terms in which the suggestion is couched and the wide latitude of reservation permitted
each party that may respond in the open spirit which characterizes the invitation leads to the natural hope that it will be accepted.

Meanwhile the commission will proceed on the original line of inquiry,
which promises to be a slow and difficult task, trusting to the abridgment of the proceedings later on by the production of evidence by both parties, and the appearance of attorneys, when the proceedings may at once take on the form of a judicial trial, and the attainment of a conclusion be correspondingly hastened.

S. Malet-Provost, who has earned a high reputation at the New York bar and also in Washington, has been named as secretary of the commission,
and will be in daily attendance at the rooms. Mr. Whitmore of Ithaca, N.
Y., was selected as one of the stenographers who will be employed, and Vander Moolthrop of the District of Columbia was appointed a messenger.
A few other appointments will be made hereafter as the need for further help appears.

The Davis resolution on the Monroe doctrine, which has been reported favorably to the senate and referred to the calendar, reads as follows:

Resolved, By the senate, the house of representatives concurring, that, whereas President Monroe in his message to congress of December 2, anno domini 1823, declared it proper to assert as a principle
in which the rights and interests of the United States are involved that the American continents, by the free and independent condition which they have assumed and maintained, were thenceforth not to be considered as subjects for future colonization by any European power.

Whereas, President Monroe further declared in that message that the United States would consider any attempt by the allied powers of Europe to extend their system to any portion of this hemisphere
as dangerous to our peace and safety; that with the existing colonies and dependencies of any European power, we have not interfered and should not interfere; but that with the governments who have declared their independence and maintained
it, whose independence we have on great consideration and on just principles recognized, we could not view any interposition for the purpose of oppressing them or controlling in any other manner their destiny by any European power, in any other light than as the manifestation of an unfriendly disposition toward the United States, and further reiterated in that message that it is impossible that the allied powers should extend their political system to any portion of either continent
without endangering our peace and happiness; and,

Whereas, The doctrine and policy so proclaimed by President Monroe have since been repeatedly asserted by the United States by executive declaration and action upon occasions and exigencies similar to the particular occasion and exigency which caused them to be first announced, and have been ever since their promulgation,
and now are the rightful policy of the United States, therefore be

Resolved, That the United States of America reaffirm and confirm the doctrines and principles promulgated by President Monroe in his message of Dec. 2, 1823, and declares that it will assert and maintain that doctrine and those principles and will regard any infringement thereof and particularly any attempt by any European power to take or acquire any new territory on the American continents, or any islands adjacent thereto for any right of sovereignty or dominion in the same, in any case
or instance as to which the United States shall deem such attempt to be dangerous
to its peace or safety by or through force,
purchase, cession, occupation, pledge, colonization, protection, or by any other means of transit across the American isthmus,
whether on unfounded pretension of right
in cases of alleged boundary disputes, or under other unfounded pretensions, as the manifestation of an unfriendly disposition toward the United States and as an interposition which it would be impossible in any form for the United States to regard with indifference.

In seeming contravention of this, Mr.
Sewell (Rep., N. J.) then addressed the senate on his resolution reciting that President Cleveland had extended the Monroe doctrine beyond its proper scope, and enunciating the principle that the doctrine was for the interest of the United States, and was not an obligation to aid and protect Southern republics. The resolution recites that that the president's course was premature and that the Monroe doctrine does not commit the United States to a protectorate of southern countries. Mr. Sewell said the president's Venezuelan message presented questions of most serious import.

The senator, reading from the message, said the president clearly desired
to present the contingency of war.
Throughout the message and the letters of the secretary of state, the determination was clear to make this construction of the doctrine absolutely final and conclusive without reference to results.

The senator quoted from resolutions
of congress in 1820 and speeches by Mr.
Webster, showing the exact purposes and original scope of the Monroe doctrine. In 1820 Senator Clayton of Delaware pointed out in the senate that the doctrine of Monroe was not addressed to foreign nations, but was a mere recommendation to congress, which congress declined to accept. The congress sitting at the time of the Monroe message strongly opposed the doctrine.
Henry Clay offered a modified resolution, but it could not pass. Lewis Cass referred to the doctrine as a dead letter.
Mr. Sewell gave the position of John Quincy Adams, Jackson, Van Buren
and other statesmen on the doctrine,
showing the constant and successful
opposition to it.

Taking up the Venezuela question,
Mr. Sewell pointed out that the president's position involved the most extreme and dangerous application of the doctrine thus far made. It was not based on the interests of the United States, but on the force exerted by a strong power against a weak one in South America. It clearly led to the assumption of a protectorate by the United States over Mexico and South American countries. It involved the necessity of our preparing ourselves with arms and ammunition to execute the duties and obligations of such a protectorate.

Venezuela has been in a state of constant turmoil and revolution for 25 years, said Mr. Sewell. These people of the southern republics were subject to internal discord and revolution. It be-hooved the United States to pause and consider well the extent of an obligation which made up the guardian of these turbulent countries. That they would give offense to foreign countries was undoubted.

Mr. Sewell said that he felt the circumstances of the moment had led to an extreme assertion of our position, which would entail serious results if carried out by congress. The first ebul-litions of popular excitement and the desire of some persons to indulge in cheap
utterances based on supposed patriotism
was not the best basis for intelligent and serious action. In conclusion Mr. Sewell said:

"I can not but think that a matter which has been slumbering so many years in a state of diplomatic repose
might have been delayed a few months longer. It seems hardly wise, just at this time, to have thrown into the political arena this further cause for disorder and disturbance. A zealous upholding of the nation's honor on the part of the executive is to be commended. But we have a right to expect that discretion and good judgment
will be exercised in bringing to a culmination and issue so grave and serious as that now presented. It appears to me that in this respect the action of the executive has been alike unreasonable and premature. The country is in a state of recovery or convalescence from the financial malady of 1893. In this view it appears to me that the action of the executive has been more than unreasonable."

BAYARD NOT REPROVED.

The President Replies to the House Regarding the Ambassador's Speeches.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 21.—The president has sent to the house his reply to the resolution calling on him for information as to what he had done about the matter of the speeches delivered by Mr. Bayard. He transmits
copies of the two speeches in full, and also copies of letters from Mr. Bayard explaining of them. No action was taken by the president on the speeches except to notify Mr. Bayard of the action of the house.

Mr. Bayard in his letter calls attention to the fact that the Edinburgh address was delivered by invitation before a society purely literary and scientific in character; that no political canvass was pending or approaching in Great Britain
at the time; that the address consisted of his personal opinions upon governmental institutions in general, etc., and that there were precedents, as in the case of his predecessor, Mr. Lowell,
for an ambassador of the United States,
delivering an address under such conditions.

Recounting his participation in the closing exercises of the school at Boston, England: "A kindly, humorous, post
prandial tone prevailed."

Mr. Bayard adds that the sending of a copy of a local paper containing a report of the address to President Cleveland and to a grandchild in Boston,
Mass., constituted all the "publication"
in the United States which he had given
it. Mr. Bayard adds that in the report of his Boston address there are obvious errors, but as he spoke without preparation and was not to show in just what those errors consisted.

GOOD NEWS FOR CUBA.

Recognition by This Country
Soon Expected.

SENATORS SAID TO FAVOR IT.

The Committee Said to Intend to Make a Favorable Report on the Matter—Mc-Millan Says the Rebels Will Be Recognized at an Early Day.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 21.—Senators Sherman, Morgan and Lodge, who constitute the committee on Cuban affairs of the committee on foreign relations, have been holding a consultation upon the question of recognizing the belligerency of the Cuban insurgents. The meeting was strictly private and nothing was given out concerning it.

There is reason for believing that the sub-committee has virtually agreed upon a resolution recommending the recognition of the belligerency of the Cubans and that a report to this effect will be made to the full committee at its meeting next Wednesday. It is possible that the resolution may only go to the extent of expressing sympathy for the Cuban cause, and the sub-committee is trying to keep its proceedings a close secret.

There has never been any doubt on the part of a majority of the members
as to the propriety of some recognition of the Cuban movement for freedom,
the only question being as to the wisdom of taking steps at this time in that direction. There is a feeling in the committee, however, that congress is far behind the sentiment of the country
on this question, and that the time is ripe for action.

A Nashville special says: Congressman Benton McMillan has reached the city from Washington, and in an interview had with him concerning the Cuban affairs, said he had good grounds
for the statement that President Cleveland, in a few days, will send a message to congress recognizing the Cubans as belligerents. Mr. McMillan says he is satisfied this will be done, and the rumors connecting England with the purchase of Cuba are bringing matters almost to a crisis. Mr. McMillan spoke with positiveness in regard to the early recognition of the revolutionists.

SYLVESTER SCOVEL ESCAPES.

A Pittsburg Correspondent Having Thrilling Experiences in Cuba.

PITTSBURG, Jan. 21.—Sylvester Scovel,
the correspondent of the Pittsburg Dispatch in Cuba, son of Rev. Dr. Scovel, president of the University of Wooster,
and who was captured by the Spanish and ordered deported from the island, an account of which appeared in these dispatches yesterday, has made his escape
and is again with the insurgents.

United States Consul General Williams has cabled this information from Cuba to The Dispatch, as did Secretary of State Olney from Washington.

Another correspondent managed to slip a message out of Havana to London,
from whence it was telegraphed to Pittsburg. It says:

"The disappearance of Sylvester Scovel
from the Cuban capital is a sensation
second only to the recall of General Campos. The authorities were making preparations to carry out the order of banishment when they suddenly discovered that their victim was not to be found.
He had not been locked up, but was under military surveillance, and it never entered the heads of the haughty Spanish officials that he would again attempt to break through the lines, which are supposed to tightly inclose Havana.
"Mr. Scovel told one or two of the Americans in the city that he did not propose to leave the island, even if the order of banishment came direct from the throne at Madrid. He had come to Cuba to report the progress of the revolution for his paper and intended to do so, come what might. Nothing definite is known here as to the exact manner
of his escape, as he was awaiting a favorable opportunity. He probably eluded the watch left over him at night,
and got past the outposts and pickets in the darkness."

It is reported here that Scovel safely reached the insurgent lines, and is again with the staff of General Gomez.
This cannot be stated definitely, though,
as every effort has been made to suppress all information connected with the matter."

NO NEED OF TROOPS.

The Story of War Preparations Ordered
in Florida False.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 21.—A flat denial is given at the war department to the report from Florida that the department has requested the governor of the state to put the Florida troops in readiness to take the field at a moment's notice.

In the first place, it is said the president has no constitutional or lawful authority to make such a request and in the next place there is no emergency that would justify the calling out of the 1,200 men that make up the Florida militia. The report was that Great Britain was about to buy Cuba from Spain and the United States intended to interfere.

We Have Asked No Questions.

TOOMSBORO, Ga., Jan. 21.—News has just been received here of the mysterious assassination of the Rev. Warren Powers, a well-known country preacher, near Halls Station, this county. Powers
was called to his door at night and shot,
falling dead in the arms of his wife.

The suspicions of the officers here have been directed to a man named Dixon, a member of Powers' congregation, and he is under arrest. It is said that last Sunday Mr. Powers preached a strong sermon against the marital infidelities
of some of the community, and Dixon
took the sermon as applying to him.

Spaniards Claim a Victory.

HAVANA, Jan. 21.—A battle of importance is reported to have occurred at Fajrones, only five miles south of Pinar

manded by Major Sanchez, numbering 360, was attacked by 2,000 insurgents
under Maceo. Lieutenant Colonel San Martin, at the head of 300 men, came to

Spaniards claim a victory.

EAST LIVERPOOL, O., TUESDAY, JAN. 21.

For President,
WILLIAM MCINLEY,
Of Ohio.

It is almost time for another special message from President Cleveland. Perhaps he needs another duck hunting expedition so his cabinet can think for him while he is gone.

ENGLAND will flare and flash like a rocket when an inch of her territory is threatened, but strange to say remains passive and dumb while the poor Armenians are being killed by the score.

THE NEW YORK judge who refused the other day to naturalize a lot of applicants because they had not read the constitution, displayed the true American spirit. We want no citizens in ignorance of the spirit of the law under which we live.

THERE has been so much said and written about the present legislature being a body of business men that we all want to see them get down to work. Let them keep out anything which savors of special legislation, enact such laws as the state may need, and then go home.

CONGRESS is discussing appropriations this week, but it is almost needless to say that no money will be set aside for the construction of a government building at this point. Had there been no Wilson bill we would have stood some chance of recognition, but with the balance on the wrong side of our Uncle Samuel's ledger, we are not in it.

ENFORCE THE LAW.

Benjamin Harrison was once called upon to say some strong words on the enforcement of law, and he said:

"The idea that a mayor or chief of police is at liberty to permit any law or ordinance to be violated is monstrous. We choose executive officers to enforce the law, and not to repeal or suspend them at their pleasure. It is subversive of our system and destructive of social order and of the peace of any community to allow our executive officers to choose what laws they will enforce. It is not at all a question whether I like the law or whether the officer likes the law. Such questions are for the legislature and council."

The law should be enforced. Laws were made for that purpose. They were not made to be ignored and cast down, as is too often the case in municipalities. If the law is wrong it will work its own defeat, but it should be enforced as long as it is on the statute books.

The great majority of men and women, of even very much more than ordinary intelligence, pay no attention whatsoever to the well established rules governing the preservation of health. Simple symptoms of indigestion or slight disarrangements of the stomach or system are treated by them as trivial happenings, having no weight or bearing upon their general health. In this seeming neglect or too much over confidence in their own robustness lies the greatest mistake of their lives. As it is invariably from these little ailments giant chronic diseases spring. To guard fully against such evils, use Libby's Phosphate Beef, Iron and Wine; the only true tonic to the stomach system, system and nerves, perfect strength and tissue producer, and new rich blood maker. Go or send for it to Alvin H. Bulger, druggist, Sixth and West Market.

NOTICE.

The annual meeting of the stockholders of the East Liverpool Amusement Hall company will be held in the Fifth street rink on Thursday, January 23, 7 o'clock p. m., for the election of a board of directors, and such other business as may be necessary.

GREAT BRITAIN ASKED

To Submit Boundary Evidence, as Is Venezuela.

MONROE DOCTRINE EXPANSION.

Davis' Resolution Favorably Reported to the Senate—Sewell Argues That President Cleveland Went Too Far in His Message—New Commission Secretary.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 21.—There have been important developments regarding the Venezuelan question and the Monroe doctrine.

The Venezuelan commission has invited the governments of Great Britain and of Venezuela to submit to it all of the evidence in their possession to further the work of the commission to be represented before it by attorneys, and all of this with the reservation that such representation and appearance shall not be deemed an abandonment of any rights or position heretofore assumed. It has done this in the order that the proceedings of the commission may not be said to be ex parte, that the truth may appear, and that time may be saved in the inquiry with which the commission is charged. The invitation goes in the shape of a letter to Secretary Olney, who has made response, saying that he has transmitted a copy of the commission's views to the two governments concerned, but has as yet received no reply.

It cannot be said that the commission is confident of a favorable response from both parties to the boundary controversy, although the courteous terms in which the suggestion is couched and the wide latitude of reservation permitted each party that may respond in the open spirit which characterizes the invitation leads to the natural hope that it will be accepted.

Meanwhile the commission will proceed on the original line of inquiry, which promises to be a slow and difficult task, trusting to the abridgment of the proceedings later on by the production of evidence by both parties, and the appearance of attorneys, when the proceedings may at once take on the form of a judicial trial, and the attainment of a conclusion be correspondingly hastened.

S. Malet-Provost, who has earned a high reputation at the New York bar and also in Washington, has been named secretary of the commission, and will in due time attend at the rooms. Mr. Whitmore of Ithaca, N. Y., was selected as one of the stenographers who will be employed, and Walter Monthrop of the District of Columbia was appointed a messenger. A few other appointments will be made hereafter as the need for further help appears.

The Davis resolution on the Monroe doctrine, which has been reported favorably to the senate and referred to the calendar, reads as follows:

Resolved, By the senate, the house of representatives concurring, that, whereas President Monroe in his message to congress of December 2, anno domini 1823, deemed it proper to assert as a principle in which the rights and interests of the United States are involved that the American continents, by the free and independent condition which they have assumed and maintained, were thenceforth not to be considered as subjects for future colonization by any European power.

Whereas, President Monroe further declared in that message that the United States would consider any attempt by the allied powers of Europe to extend their system to any portion of this hemisphere as dangerous to our peace and safety; that with the existing colonies and dependencies of any European power, we have not interfered and should not interfere; but that with the governments who have declared their independence and maintained it, whose independence we have on great consideration and on just principles acknowledged, we could not view any interposition for the purpose of oppressing them or controlling in any other manner their destiny by any European power, in any other light than as the manifestation of an unfriendly disposition toward the United States, and further reiterated in that message that it is impossible that the allied powers should extend their political system to any portion of either continent without endangering our peace and happiness; and,

Whereas, the doctrine and policy so proclaimed by President Monroe have since been repeatedly asserted by the United States by executive declaration and action upon occasions and exigencies similar to the particular occasion and exigency which caused them to be first announced, and have been ever since their promulgation, and now are the rightful policy of the United States, therefore be it

Resolved, That the United States of America reaffirm and confirm the doctrine and principles promulgated by President Monroe in his message of Dec. 2, 1823, and declares that it will assert and maintain that doctrine and those principles and will regard any infringement thereof and particularly any action by any European power to take or acquire any new territory on the American continents or any islands adjacent thereto for any right of sovereignty or dominion in the same, in any case or instance as to which the United States shall deem such attempt to be dangerous to its peace or safety by or through force, purchase, cession, occupation, pledge, colonization, protectorate or by control of the coast in canal or any other means of transit across the American isthmus, whether on unfounded pretension of right in cases of alleged boundary disputes, or under other unfounded pretensions, as the manifestation of an unfriendly disposition toward the United States and as an interposition which it would be impossible in any form for the United States to regard with indifference.

In seeming contravention of this, Mr. Sewell (Rep., N. J.) then addressed the senate on his resolution reciting that President Cleveland had extended the Monroe doctrine beyond its proper scope, and enunciating the principle that the doctrine was for the interest of the United States, and was not an obligation to aid and protect Southern republics. The resolution recites that that the president's course was premature and that the Monroe doctrine does not commit the United States to a protectorate of southern countries. Mr. Sewell said the president's Venezuelan message presented questions of most serious import.

The senate, reading from the message, said the president clearly desired to present the contingency of war. Throughout the message and the letters of the secretary of state, the determination was clear to make this construction of the doctrine absolutely final and conclusive without reference to results.

The senator quoted from resolutions of congress in 1823 and speeches by Mr. Webster, showing the exact purposes and original scope of the Monroe doctrine. In 1823 Senator Clayton of Delaware pointed out in the senate that the doctrine of Monroe was not addressed to foreign nations, but was a mere recommendation to congress, which congress declined to accept. The congress sitting at the time of the Monroe message strongly opposed the doctrine. Henry Clay offered a modified resolution, but it could not pass. Lewis Cass referred to the doctrine as a dead letter. Mr. Sewell gave the position of John Quincy Adams, Jackson, Van Buren and other statesmen on the doctrine, showing the constant and successful opposition to it.

Taking up the Venezuela question, Mr. Sewell pointed out that the president's position involved the most extreme and dangerous application of the doctrine thus far made. It was not based on the interests of the United States, but on the force exerted by a strong power against a weak one in South America. It clearly led to the assumption of a protectorate by the United States over Mexico and South American countries. It involved the necessity of our preparing ourselves with arms and ammunition to execute the duties and obligations of such a protectorate.

Venezuela has been in a state of constant turmoil and revolution for 25 years, said Mr. Sewell. These people of the southern republics were subject to internal discord and revolution. It behooved the United States to pause and consider well the extent of an obligation which made up the guardian of these turbulent countries. That they would give offense to foreign countries was undoubted.

Mr. Sewell said that he felt the circumstances of the moment had led to an extreme assertion of our position, which would entail serious results if carried out by congress. The first ebullitions of popular excitement and the desire of some persons to indulge in cheap utterances based on supposed patriotism was not the best basis for intelligent and serious action. In conclusion Mr. Sewell said:

"I can not but think that a matter which has been slumbering so many years in a state of diplomatic repose might have been delayed a few months longer. It seems hardly wise, just at this time, to have thrown into the political arena this further cause for disorder and disturbance. A zealous upholding of the nation's honor on the part of the executive is to be commended. But we have a right to expect that discretion and good judgment will be exercised in bringing to a culmination and issue so grave and serious a matter that now presented. It appears to me that in this respect the action of the executive has been alike unreasonable and premature. The country is in a state of recovery or convalescence from the financial malady of 1893. In this view it appears to me that the action of the executive has been more than unreasonable."

BAYARD NOT REPROVED.

The President Replies to the House Regarding the Ambassador's Speeches.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 21.—The president has sent to the house his reply to the resolution calling on him for information as to what he had done about the matter of the speeches delivered by the Ambassador Bayard. He transmits the copies of the two speeches in full, and also copies of letters from Mr. Bayard explanatory of them. No action was taken by the president on the speeches except to notify Mr. Bayard of the action of the house.

Mr. Bayard in his letter calls attention to the fact that the Edinburgh address was delivered by invitation before a society purely literary and scientific in character; that no political canvass was pending or approaching in Great Britain at the time; that the address consisted of his personal opinions upon governmental institutions in general, etc., and that there were precedents as in the case of his predecessor, Mr. Lowell, for an ambassador of the United States, delivering an address under such conditions.

Recounting his participation in the closing exercises of the school at Boston, England: "A kindly, humorous, post prandial tone prevailed."

Mr. Bayard adds that the sending of a copy of a local paper containing a report of the address to President Cleveland amounted to a grandchild in Boston, Mass., constituted all the "publicity" in the United States which he had given it. Mr. Bayard adds that in the report of his Boston address there are obvious errors, but as he spoke without preparation he has nothing by which to make comparisons or to show in just what those errors consisted.

SENATORS SAID TO FAVOR IT.

The Committee Said to Intend to Make a Favorable Report on the Matter—McMillan Says the Rebels Will Be Recognized at an Early Day.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 21.—Senators Sherman, Morgan and Lodge, who constitute the committee on Cuban affairs of the committee on foreign relations, have been holding a consultation upon the question of recognizing the belligerency of the Cuban insurgents. The meeting was strictly private and nothing was given out concerning it.

There is reason for believing that the sub-committee has virtually agreed upon a resolution recommending the recognition of the belligerency of the Cubans and that a report to this effect will be made to the full committee at its meeting next Wednesday. It is possible that the resolution may only go to the extent of expressing sympathy for the Cuban cause, and the sub-committee is trying to keep its proceedings a close secret.

There has never been any doubt on the part of a majority of the members as to the propriety of some recognition of the Cuban movement for freedom, the only question being as to the wisdom of taking steps at this time in that direction. There is a feeling in the committee, however, that congress is far behind the sentiment of the country on this question, and that the time is ripe for action.

A Nashville special says: Congressman Benton McMillan has reached the city from Washington, and in an interview had with him concerning the Cuban affairs, said he had good grounds for the statement that President Cleveland, in a few days, will send a message to congress recognizing the Cubans as belligerents. Mr. McMillan says he is satisfied this will be done, and the rumors connecting England with the purchase of Cuba are bringing matters almost to a crisis. Mr. McMillan spoke with positiveness in regard to the early recognition of the revolutionists.

SYLVESTER SCOVEL ESCAPES.

A Pittsburg Correspondent Having Thrilling Experiences in Cuba.

PITTSBURG, Jan. 21.—Sylvester Scovel, the correspondent of the Pittsburg Dispatch in Cuba, son of Rev. Dr. Scovel, president of the University of Wooster, and who was captured by the Spanish and ordered deported from the island, an account of which appeared in these dispatches yesterday, has made his escape and is again with the insurgents.

United States Consul General Williams has cabled this information from Cuba to the Dispatch, as did Secretary of State Olney from Washington.

Another correspondent managed to slip a message out of Havana to Florida, from whence it was telegraphed to Pittsburg. It says:

"The disappearance of Sylvester Scovel from the Cuban capital is a sensation second only to the recall of General Campos. The authorities were making preparations to carry out the order of banishment when they suddenly discovered that their victim was not to be found. He had not been locked up, but was under military surveillance, and it never entered the heads of the haughty Spanish officials that he would again attempt to break through the lines, which are supposed to tightly inclose Havana."

"Mr. Scovel told one or two of the Americans in the city that he did not propose to leave the island, even if the order of banishment came direct from the throne at Madrid. He had come to Cuba to report the progress of the revolution for his paper and intended to do so, come what might. Nothing definite is known here as to the exact manner of his escape, as he was awaiting a favorable opportunity. He probably eluded the watch left over him at night, and got past the outposts and pickets in the darkness."

"It is reported here that Scovel safely reached the insurgent lines, and is again with the staff of General Gomez. This cannot be stated definitely, though, as every effort has been made to suppress all information connected with the matter."

NO NEED OF TROOPS.

The Story of War Preparations Ordered in Florida False.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 21.—A flat denial is given at the war department to the report from Florida that the department has requested the governor of the state to put the Florida troops in readiness to take the field at a moment's notice.

In the first place, it is said the president has no constitutional or lawful authority to make such a request and in the next place there is no emergency that would justify the calling out of the 1,200 men that make up the Florida militia. The report was that Great Britain was about to buy Cuba from Spain and the United States intended to interfere.

BIG DAMAGES ASKED

An East Rochester Physician Was Defamed.

HIS PRACTICE ALMOST RUINED

He Thinks It Was Worth $10,000 to Him and Wants the Court to Collect It—The Second Suit From a Conversation—Lisbon News.

Special to the NEWS REVIEW.

LISBON, Jan. 21.—Patrick McDonald, a farmer residing at the village of East Rochester in the western part of the county, was today made defendant in a suit for damages filed by Doctor M. S. Derringer for $10,000.

The suit grew out of a conversation, according to the petition, in which McDonald made the statement that Derringer had been guilty of adultery. The correspondent he said was Ida M. Fox, a young married woman of that place, and her husband was about to make a fuss over the matter. Doctor Derringer claims the statement was made to injure him, and has answered its purpose. He thinks his practice has been woefully hurt and that his reputation has been seriously damaged. That conversation has been the means of producing two damage suits the other having been filed last October by Mrs. Fox who wants $5,000 from McDonald.

SENTENCES IN PROBATE.

Two Old Liqueur Charges Were Disposed Of.

Special to the NEWS REVIEW.

LISBON, Jan. 21.—Judge Young disposed of a few cases today and wiped them off his docket. Leroy Rinehart of East Liverpool, got $25 and costs for breaking the liquor law, and the judge tacked on five days in the county jail so he would not forget it. Ralph Vogan, a Lisbon saloonist, was under the same charge and got the same sentence.

Judge Young also authorized a settlement between the Mutual Masonic Insurance association and H. A. Cameron, an heir of C. B. Cameron, who committed suicide in a Cleveland hotel last August. The claim was on a policy for $3,000, and was settled by the company paying $1,200.

KILLING OFF DOGS.

They Will No Longer Menace Jordanville Health.

Special to the NEWS REVIEW.

LISBON, Jan. 21.—The case of small-pox in Jordanville is closely guarded and there is no danger of the disease spreading. There has been a great slaughter of dogs, and few, if any, are left. The Lewis family claim that their daughter is not ill with small-pox, but the health board have not relaxed their vigilance. As soon as the patient can be moved, she now being very ill, the family will be taken out of the precincts of the village.

THE DELINQUENT SALE.

Liverpool Buyers Were There to Buy.

Special to the NEWS REVIEW.

LISBON, Jan. 21.—A large amount of property was today sold at the treasurer's office to satisfy taxes that have become delinquent. The total amount of Liverpool property sold was $1,881.57 and the principal buyers were Colonel Hill, A. R. Mackall and J. J. Purinton. They got some bargains for the property did not bring high prices. Land in other parts of the county brought no better returns.

Some of the Sick.

Mrs. Anne O'Connell, an old lady residing on Thompson hill and well known to many people in the city, is suffering from a complication of diseases and the infirmities of old age, and is very low.

D. H. Yant is home from Fairview where he was called to see his father who is still very low from heart trouble.

Robert Logan is recovering from the attack of typhoid fever which it was feared would cost him his life.

No Cover For the Wagon.

A little group of men were talking about the movement, now on in some cities, for the covering of patrol wagons, when one said:

"One of the strong features of the law is the fear of it. Take that away and the law loses much of its force. If you would put a cover on the patrol, more than one fellow who would feel keenly the disgrace of a ride through the streets would not fear arrest," and others assented.

Pulled Off the Fight.

A cock fight was pulled off in West End last evening after a great deal of difficulty. The owners of the chickens are boys and the father of one found that the match had been arranged. He followed them and drove them from one place, but they finally secured a spot where the battle could be fought without outside interference.

More Workers.

So numerous have been the additions to the number of Italian laborers employed on the Cunningham farm in getting out stone for the new bridge that Contractor Shrader has a small army there at present, and the work is being pushed with vigor. Parties interested in the bridge were in town today on business connected with the enterprise.

Lost Her Way.

A little girl lost her way on Washington street this morning, and was crying pitifully for her mother when a friend of the family found her and took her home. She resides in Bradshaw addition.

There is good reason for the popularity of Chamberlain's Cough remedy. Davis & Buzard, of West Monroeville, Clarion company, Pa., says: "It has cured people that our physicians could do nothing for. We persuaded them to try a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough remedy and they now recommend it with the rest of us. Twenty-five and 50 cent bottles for sale by A. H. Bulger, druggist."

A Short Session.

The board of education met last evening, passed upon a few bills, and then went home. There was little business to look after, and the board had no desire to stretch out the meeting.

Carlton Cornwell, foreman of the Gazette, Middletown, N. J., believes that Chamberlain's Cough remedy should be in every home. He used it for a cold and it effected a speedy cure. He says: "It is indeed a grand remedy, I can recommend to all. I have also seen it used for whooping cough, with the best results." Twenty-five and 50 cent bottles for sale by A. H. Bulger, druggist.

A Startling Admission.

In New York City, for five consecutive years, the proportion of Deaths from Consumption has been three in every Twenty Persons.

Epidemics of Cholera, Yellow Fever and other diseases of similar character, so terrible in their results, occasion wide spread alarm and receive the most careful consideration for their prevention and cure, while consumption receives scarcely a thought, yet the number of their victims sinks into insignificance when compared with those of consumption. Comparatively few people know what to do for their loved ones when they see them gradually lose strength, lose color, manifest feeble vitality and emaciation, or develop a cough, with difficult breathing, or hemorrhage. Cod liver oil was for a long time given in all such cases, but the poor success attending its use coupled with its nauseating taste has led many practitioners, as well as the public at large, to place their main reliance in Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It deserves early attention and will prove effective not in every case but in a large percentage of cases, and we believe that fully 98 per cent of all cases of consumption can be taken in the early stages of the disease, be cured with the "Discovery." Dr. Pierce does not ask people to believe until they have investigated for themselves. A pamphlet has been published having the names, addresses and photographs of a large number of those cured of consumption, bronchitis, lingering coughs, asthma, chronic nasal catarrh and kindred maladies which will be mailed free to those sending for it with their name and address upon a postal card, or you can have a medical treatise, in book form of 160 pages, mailed to you, on receipt of address and six cents in stamps. You can then write those cured and learn their experiences.

ARE WE CIVILIZED?

One Who Analyzes Fashion Says We Are Still Half Savage.

The prevailing motive not to appear singular accounts for the continuance of certain fashions, many being the results of superstition, religious observances and the desire to be "up to date."

We are acquainted with what facility hair may be fashioned into various fantastic shapes for personal adornment, and when a part through the middle is decentered it is worn without regard to contour, and whether it may add to or detract from one's intellectual appearance no thought is given.

If fashion says crimp, we crimp; if curl and wave, we obey. And the custom of keeping the head closely shaved prevails, as among the Fijian women, while the men cultivate long hair, thus reversing the conditions met with among highly civilized nations.

The lips, ears and nose offer a variety of possible alterations and are a means of ornamental display, and, says Captain Cook, over a hundred years ago, in describing the naked savages on the east coast of Australia, their principal form of ornamentation was a bone, which they thrust through the cartilage which divides the nostrils from each other. The lip ornamentations by the Bolocudo Indians and the Tinkit Bella are disgusting in the extreme, and in the heart of Africa among the Bongo women a clamp or clasp is worn at the corners of the mouth, as if they wanted to contract the orifice and literally put a curb on its possibilities.

The teeth cannot escape, and the Malays view in disgust the natural tint and stain their a jet black.

One views in horror the Chinese method of foot binding, but which is much mitigated when considering by degrees the fashionable toe used in the last century.

Thus we can see that fashion's fetters torture and harass equally civilized men and savage vanity. Are we not the same in kind, but differing only in degree from the savage?—New York Advertiser.

Edmund Halley.

Probably the greatest service which Halley ever rendered to human knowledge was the share which he took in bringing Newton's "Principia" before the world. In fact, as Dr. Glaisher, writing in 1888, has truly remarked, "but for Halley the 'Principia' would not have existed."

Halley had the genius to perceive the tremendous importance of Newton's researches, and he ceased not to urge upon the somewhat reclusive man of science the necessity for giving his discoveries publication. Having been authorized by the Royal society to undertake the printing of the book at his own expense, Halley spared no pains in pushing forward the publication of his illustrious friend's great work, so much so that in the same year he was in a position to present a complete copy to King James II, with a proper discourse of his own. Halley also wrote a set of Latin hexameters, in praise of Newton's genius, which he printed at the beginning of the work. The last line of this specimen of Halley's poetic muse may be thus rendered, "Nor mortals nearer may approach the gods."—Sir Robert Ball in Good Words.

The ordinary pension to the widow of a lieutenant in the army is £40, and £10 for each child. If death is directly traced to fatigue, privation or exposure, the pensions are increased by half as much again; if the officer is killed in action, or dies of wounds within 12 months of the battle, the pensions are doubled. The ordinary pensions are not granted if the officer was 25 years older than his wife.—London Echo.

BIG DAMAGES ASKED

An East Rochester Physician
Was Defamed.

HIS PRACTICE ALMOST RUINED

He Thinks It Was Worth $10,000 to Him and Wants the Court to Collect It—The Second Suit From a Conversation—Lisbon News.

Special to the NEWS REVIEW.

LISBON, Jan. 21.—Patrick McDonald, a farmer residing at the village of East Rochester in the western part of the county, was today made defendant in a suit for damages filed by Doctor M. S. Derringer for $10,000.

The suit grew out of a conversation, according to the petition, in which McDonald made the statement that Derringer had been guilty of adultery. The correspondent he said was Ida M. Fox, a young married woman of that place, and her husband was about to make a fuss over the matter. Doctor Derringer claims the statement was made to injure him, and has answered its purpose. He thinks his practice has been woefully hurt and that his reputation has been seriously damaged. That conversation has been the means of producing two damage suits the other having been filed last October by Mrs. Fox who wants $5,000 from McDonald.

SENTENCES IN PROBATE.

Two Old Liquor Charges Were Disposed Of.

Special to the NEWS REVIEW.

LISBON, Jan. 21.—Judge Young disposed of a few cases today and wiped them off his docket. Leroy Rinehart, of East Liverpool, got $25 and costs for breaking the liquor law, and the judge tacked on five days in the county jail so he would not forget it. Ralph Vogan, a Lisbon saloonist, was under the same charge and got the same sentence.

Judge Young also authorized a settlement between the Mutual Masonic Insurance association and H. A. Cameron, an heir of C. B. Cameron, who committed suicide in a Cleveland hotel last August. The claim was on a policy for $3,000, and was settled by the company paying $1,200.

KILLING OFF DOGS.

They Will No Longer Menace Jordanville Health.

Special to the NEWS REVIEW.

LISBON, Jan. 21.—The case of small-pox in Jordanville is closely guarded and there is no danger of the disease spreading. There has been a great slaughter of dogs, and few, if any, are left. The Lewis family claim that their daughter is not ill with small-pox, but the health board have not relaxed their vigilance. As soon as the patient can be moved, she now being very ill, the family will be taken out of the precincts of the village.

THE DELINQUENT SALE.

Liverpool Buyers Were There to Buy.

Special to the NEWS REVIEW.

LISBON, Jan. 21.—A large amount of property was today sold at the treasurer's office to satisfy taxes that have become delinquent. The total amount of Liverpool property sold was $1,881.37 and the principal buyers were Colonel Hill, A. R. Mackall and J. J. Purinton. They got some bargains for the property did not bring high prices. Land in other parts of the county brought no better returns.

Some of the Sick.

Mrs. Anne Colclough, an old lady residing on Thompson hill and well known to many people in the city, is suffering from a complication of diseases and the infirmities of old age, and is very low.

D. H. Yant is home from Fairview where he was called to see his father who is still very low from heart trouble.

Robert Logan is recovering from the attack of typhoid fever which it was feared would cost him his life.

No Cover For the Wagon.

A little group of men were talking about the movement, now on in some cities, for the covering of patrol wagons, when one said:

"One of the strong features of the law is the fear of it. Take that away and the law loses much of its force. If you would put a cover on the patrol, more than one fellow who would feel keenly the disgrace of a ride through the streets would not fear arrest," and others assented.

Pulled Off the Fight.

A cock fight was pulled off in West End last evening after a great deal of difficulty. The owners of the chickens are boys and the father of one found that the match had been arranged. He followed them and drove them from one place, but they finally secured a spot where the battle could be fought without outside interference.

More Workers.

So numerous have been the additions to the number of Italian laborers employed on the Cunningham farm in getting out stone for the new bridge that Contractor Shrader has a small army there at present, and the work is being pushed with vigor. Parties interested in the bridge were in town today on business connected with the enterprise.

Lost Her Way.

A little girl lost her way on Washington street this morning, and was crying pitifully for her mother when a friend of the family found her and took her home. She resides in Bradshaw addition.

There is good reason for the popularity of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. Davis & Buzard, of West Monroter, Clarion company, Pa., says: "It has cured people that our physicians could do nothing for. We persuaded them to try a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and they now recommend it with the rest of us." Twenty-five and 50 cent bottles for sale by A. H. Bulger, druggist.

A Short Session.

The board of education met last evening passed upon a few bills, and then went home. There was little business to look after, and the board had no desire to stretch out the meeting.

Carlton Cornwell, foreman of the Gazette, Middletown, N. J., believes that Chamberlain's Cough Remedy should be in every home. He used it for a cold and it effected a speedy cure. He says: "It is indeed a grand remedy. I can recommend to all. I have also seen it used for whooping cough, with the best results." Twenty-five and 50 cent bottles for sale by A. H. Bulger, druggist.

A Startling Admission.

In New York City, for five consecutive years, the proportion of Deaths from Consumption has been three in every Twenty Persons.

Epidemics of Cholera, Yellow Fever and other diseases of similar character, so terrible in their results, occasion wide spread alarm and receive the most careful consideration for their prevention and cure, while consumption receives scarcely a thought, yet the number of their victims sinks into insignificance when compared with those of consumption. Comparatively few people know what to do for their loved ones when they see them gradually lose strength, lose color, manifest feeble vitality and emaciation, or develop a cough, with difficult breathing, or hemorrhage. Cod liver oil was for a long time given in all such cases, but the poor success attending its use coupled with its nauseating taste has led many practitioners, as well as the public at large, to place their main reliance in Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It deserves early attention and will prove effectual not in every case but in a large percentage of cases, and we believe that fully 95 per cent of all cases of consumption can, if taken in the early stages of the disease, be cured with the "Discovery." Dr. Pierce does not ask people to believe until they have investigated for themselves. A pamphlet has been published having the names, addresses and photographs of a large number of those cured of consumption, bronchitis, lingering coughs, asthma, chronic nasal catarrh and kindred maladies which will be mailed free to those sending for it with their name and address upon a postal card, or you can have a medical treatise, in book form of 160 pages, mailed to you, on receipt of address and six cents in stamps. You can then write those cured and learn their experiences.

ARE WE CIVILIZED?

One Who Analyzes Fashion Says We Are Still Half Savage.

The prevailing motive not to appear singular accounts for the continuance of certain fashions, many being the results of superstition, religious observances and the desire to be "up-to-date."

We are acquainted with what facility hair may be fashioned into various fantastic shapes for personal adornment, and when a part through the middle is decentered it is worn without regard to contour, and whether it may add to or detract from one's intellectual appearance no thought is given.

If fashion says crimp, we crimp; if curl and wave, we obey. And the custom of keeping the head closely shaved prevails, as among the Pijian women, while the men cultivate long hair, thus reversing the conditions met with among highly civilized nations.

The lips, ears and nose offer a variety of possible alterations and are a means of ornamental display, and, says Captain Cook, over a hundred years ago, in describing the naked savages on the east coast of Australia, their principal form of ornamentation was a bone, which they thrust through the cartilage which divides the nostrils from each other. The lip ornamentations by the Bolocudo Indians and the Tinkit Bella are disgusting in the extreme, and in the heart of Africa among the Bongo women a clasp or clasp is worn at the corners of the mouth, as if they wanted to contract the orifice and literally put a curb on its possibilities.

The teeth cannot escape, and the Malays view in disgust the natural tint and stain their a jet black.

One views in horror the Chinese method of foot binding, but which is much mitigated when considering by degrees the fashionable toe used in the last century.

Thus we can see that fashion's fetters torture and harass equally civilized men and savage vanity. Are we not the same in kind, but differing only in degree from the savage?—New York Advertiser.

Edmund Halley.

Probably the greatest service which Halley ever rendered to human knowledge was the share which he took in bringing Newton's "Principia" before the world. In fact, as Dr. Glaisher, writing in 1888, has truly remarked, "but for Halley the 'Principia' would not have existed."

Halley had the genius to perceive the tremendous importance of Newton's researches, and he ceased not to urge upon the somewhat reticent man of science the necessity for giving his discoveries publication. Having been authorized by the Royal society to undertake the printing of the book at his own expense, Halley spared no pains in pushing forward the publication of his illustrious friend's great work, so much so that in the same year he was in a position to present a complete copy to King James II. with a proper discourse of his own. Halley also wrote a set of Latin hexameters, in praise of Newton's genius, which he printed at the beginning of the work. The last line of this specimen of Halley's poetic muse may be thus rendered, "No mortal's power may approach the gods."—Sir Robert Ball in Good Words.

British Army Pensions.

The ordinary pension to the widow of a Lieutenant in the army is $40, and $10 for each child. A captain's widow has $50, and $12 for each child; a lieutenant colonel's widow, $60, and $16 for each child; a general's widow, $70, and $20 for each child. If death is directly traced to fatigue, privation or exposure, the pensions are increased by half as much again; if the officer is killed in action, or dies of wounds within 12 months of the battle, the pensions are doubled. The ordinary pensions are not granted if the officer was 25 years older than his wife.—London Echo.
